British Values curriculum through morning messages

Democracy Rule of Law Respect and Tolerance Individual liberty Mutual Respect

Date	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
4/9	- Welcome - You're holiday - Define respect - Draw or write about your holiday	Team-Work - Define it - link it to kindness - what does kindness look like at school?	Colour monsters - The colour yellow represents feeling happy. - What makes you happy?	Colour monsters - The colour blue represents feeling sad. - What can we do to move for blue to yellow?	Celebration Assembly - Today we have celebration assembly. You have been amazing in assembly this week. Remind me again what our assembly expectations are?
11/9	- How was your weekend? - Things happening this week? - Resilience - define it - link it to a learning behaviour you think your class need to work on.	This weekend the Rugby world-cup started and England won their first game. This year the event is being played in France, South Africa are the current world cup holders and I am sure they are hoping to keep hold of the trophy. Which country are you supporting?	Today is Roald Dahl story day. My favourite Roald Dahl story is …… because ……. Have you read anything by Roald Dahl? Did you enjoy it? Why?	Colour monsters - The red monster represents feeling angry. There are lots of things that can make us angry. - What strategies can we use to help us when we feel angry?	Resilience check in - Mentions some ambitious things that you have seen the children doing (be generic) - Can the children name things they have done which are resilient?
18/9	On Friday Jewish people celebrated the festival Rosh Hashanah, which is also known as the Jewish New Year. Let's watch the video to find out more.	This week is national coding week. Did you know one of the first coders was a women! Ada Lovelace and in 1843 she wroth the first computer program. It wasn't for a computer as	Today is national fitness day. Why is it important to stay fit? And how do you keep yourself fit?	Today is world Gratitude day. This is a practice that is becoming more and more prominent across the world. Practicing gratitude can improve your mental health, boost your self-	Next week we have two INSET days so you will have a four day weekend. What could you do to continue learning during this time?

	https://youtu.be/_D49u-Epq44	we know them now, but it was an algorithm the was designed to be carried out by a machine, which is how coding and computing began,		esteem and help you develop social skills. Can you show some gratitude today and find some time to write a note to someone you are grateful for or to.
25/9			Colour monsters - The Green monster represents feeling calm. There are lots of things that can make us calm. - What strategies can we use to help us to feel calm?	Today is the mid-Autumn Moon Festival. This is a traditional festival celebrated in Chinese culture and is it a time where families come together, light lanterns and appreciate the round moon. The full moon is a symbol of family reunion and the festival is sometime known as the festival of reunion.	Celebration assembly day. It is important to celebrate our peers but it is also important to celebrate ourselves. What did you do this week that make you proud or you?
2/10	During October the world celebrates Black History Month. This is an annual celebration which honours the contributions made to society by people of black heritage. This has been celebrated annually in the UK since 1987. Why do you think it is	Throughout Black History month we are going to look at different people who have contributed to Black heritage. Today we are going to shine a light on Martin Luther King. Martin Luther King is known for his contribution to the civil rights movement in the 1960's where he fought	As well as his famous speech, Martin Luther King also said a number of inspirational things. Miss Guest's favourite quote from MLK is "darkness cannot drive out darkness on light can do that. Hate cannot drive out hate, only love can do that".	Today is world teacher day! Why are teachers important? What are you grateful to teacher for? Do you think this is a day worth celebrating?	Today is world smile day, which fits perfectly with it also being celebration assembly. One way we can celebrate ourselves and our peers is with a smile. And did you know the say smiles are contagious. Why do you think that is?

	important to celebrate Black History Month? (link to educating on contributions, eradicating discrimination and encouraging racial equality)	for the rights of Black Americans. He also wrote the very famous speech, I have a dream.	What do you think is meant by this? Miss Guest thinks it is similar to the phrase "kill them with kindness" or "two wrongs don't make a right"
9/10	Today we are going to shine a light on Rosa Parks. Like Martin Luther king she was part of the civil rights movement in America. She is famous for refusing to give up her seat on the bus. Why do you think this was an important decision?	- World Mental Health Day - What is mental health? - How do we stay mentally healthy? - KS2 how can we support people we think are struggling?	"Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world." This is a quote from Nelson Mandela. What do you think he meant by this?	Let's talk about Matthew Henson. Whilst you may not have heard this name before he is very important in showing that anyone, regardless of race can do any job. He played a very important part in making the most famous artic expedition possible. https://storyworks.scholastic.com/issues/2019-20/020120/frozen-dreams.html	Celebration assembly day. It is important to celebrate our peers but it is also important to celebrate ourselves. What did you do this week that make you proud or you?
16/10	The 14th October 1066 the battle of Hastings took place. This battle lasted the day and was a battle for the monarchy, as Duke William (and the Normans who supported him) believed	This week is invisible disabilities awareness week, a week to remind us that not all disabilities can be seen and everyone is deserving of support. It also reminds us to be accepting of each other.	Katherine Johnson, a space hero. Similarly to Matthew Henson, Katherine showed that the colour of your skin does not determine what you can achieve! She was and still is known as NASA's human		Celebration assembly day. It is important to celebrate our peers but it is also important to celebrate ourselves. What did you do this week that make you proud or you?

	the thrown was rightfully his. By the end of the day thousands were dead including the King, making the Duke even closer to the throne.		computer and helped to calculate the flight path for the first trip to the moon. That required some very impressive maths!

https://www.twinkl.co.uk/calendar/october